

Thank you for your interest in visiting the Organic Education Center Demonstration Garden at Luscher Farm!

The Organic Education Center (OEC) teaches people about the sources of their food and the ease and abundance of growing food organically. Through hands-on educational programs in collaboration with local businesses, farmers, students and local non-profits, the OEC works as a regional resource hub for sustainable food growing.

Would you like to visit our garden at Luscher Farm? We host fun and educational opportunities in the form of tours with optional hands on experiences throughout the year. Garden tours generally include an overview of Oregon Tilth's programs and an educational tour of the OEC demonstration garden. We also take time to walk around the property and see what our other farm partners are up to. We have a real working CSA on site (47th Avenue Farms) along with 200-community garden plots to explore. The hands on part of your experience may include several varying garden tasks, depending on the seasonal needs of the garden. Please review the information below and then contact us to schedule your event.

What we need to know

- Desired date and time of event (not to exceed 3 hours)
- Are you interested in hands on, garden tour, or both?
- How many attending? (up to 25 for garden tour) and (up to 8 for hands on)
- Average age of attendees. Must be ages 13 and up.

What we provide for work parties and tours

- Work gloves
- Tools
- Picnic tables for public use
- Parking

We ask that all groups provide a minimum $50 donation to Oregon Tilth OEC for our services. Please make checks payable to Oregon Tilth or pay in cash.
